

Dedication

I dedicate this work

To my parents who have provided me with their encouragement, love and understanding

To my brothers and my sister Soumia for their whole-hearted support

To all my extended family

To all my friends and teachers at the University of Biskra

To all who were there for me, thank you for your help and encouragement

To all those who have been supportive, caring and patient, I dedicate this simple work.

Declaration

I, Arbia Sabahi, do hereby solemnly declare that the work I am going to present in this dissertation is my own, and has not been submitted before to any other institution or University for a degree.

This work is to be carried out and completed at Mohamed Khider University of Biskra, Algeria

Certified:

Miss. Arbia Sabahi

Master (2) LMD student, English Language Department. ✓

Forth Year “Classique” system student, English Language Department.

Acknowledgement

First, before anything, thanks to 'Allah' who guides, helps and gives me the capacity to do this work.

I am indefinitely indebted to my mother who devoted all her time for me during the preparation of this work, God bless her now and forever.

I would like to express my infinite gratitude and respect to my supervisor Mr. Ramdane Mehiri for his constant help, precious suggestions and valuable advices.

I am also grateful to all my teachers without whom this work would not have been possible. I especially express my sincere thanks to Mr. Turqui for his valuable suggestions, as well as Ms Hissina for providing me of her time and allowing me to distribute the questionnaire to students.

I will not forget, of course, to express my gratitude to all the students of Master one who have kindly accepted to cooperate.

Words fail to express my gratitude to Zebila Mebarka, who has been of great help.

Thank you all for you help.

Abstract

The present research attempts to investigate how teachers would establish an effective classroom management for large EFL classes. The objective of this study is to identify practical strategies and techniques through which an effective classroom management is established. The hypotheses of this research emphasize that if student's responsibility and involvement is highlighted throughout the process of classroom management, EFL teachers would establish and maintain an effective classroom management for large EFL classes. In order to test these hypotheses, two questionnaires have been administered; one to the teachers who have been teaching large EFL classes for a long time at the Department of English, Biskra University. The other questionnaire has been directed to first year Master students of English. The results have shown that involving students in classroom management would enhance their sense of belonging, their responsibility towards their behavior and, thereby, reduce disruptive behaviors. On the basis of these results, the hypotheses were confirmed in that students' involvement should be highlighted within the process of organizing a positive and efficient educational environment, selecting appropriate instructional and assessment strategies, as well as reducing disruptive behavior. This study has certainly its limitations, but its findings revealed interesting implications. Thus, future research should be done experimentally to test the applicability of the findings to a larger population of subjects

ملخص

يحاول هذا البحث الى تحري كيف يمكن للأساتذة انشاء تسيير فعال للأقسام المكتظة الخاصة بطلبة الانجليزية. تهدف هذه الدراسة الى التعريف باستراتيجيات و تقنيات عملية يُنشأ من خلالها تسيير فعال للقسم المكتظ. فرضيات هذا البحث تشمل أنه اذا تم ابراز مسؤولية الطالب و اشراكه خلال عملية تسيير القسم، فان أستاذ الانجليزية قد يتمكن من انشاء و كذلك المحافظة على تسيير فعال للأقسام المكتظة. من أجل اختبار مدى صحة هذه الفرضيات تم توزيع اسبانيين، الأول الى أساتذة قسم الانجليزية بجامعة بسكرة الذين درّسوا أقساماً مكتظة لفترة طويلة، و الثاني تم توجيهه الى طلبة السنة أولى ماستر. أظهرت النتائج أن اشراك الطلبة في عملية تسيير القسم قد تحسن شعورهم بالاندماج و كذا مسؤوليتهم اتجاه سلوكهم و بذلك يتم تقليل سلوكيات الطلبة المشوشة . على أساس هذه النتائج تم تأكيد هذه الفرضيات التي تسلط الضوء على اشراك الطالب في عملية تنظيم محيط علمي ايجابي و فعال، اختيار استراتيجيات مناسبة للتدريس و التقييم و كذا تقليل السلوك المشوش داخل القسم. بالطبع لدى هذه الدراسة مواطن ضعف، لكن نتائجها أظهرت مضامين مثيرة للاهتمام. البحث المقبل يجب أن يكون تجريبياً و ذلك لاختبار مدى قابلية تطبيق هذه النتائج على مجموعة أكبر من الأشخاص.

General introduction

One of the most serious phenomena which threaten the effectiveness and the quality of education in Algerian schools and universities is that of large classes. The latter is the reality of most English language teachers, especially at Biskra University. Teachers are faced with classes larger than the size they believe facilitates effective teaching and learning. Therefore, class size became one of the biggest, if not the biggest challenge facing them in their work.

Similarly, classroom management is the first professional activity to develop at the beginning of a teaching career, and represents the most significant difficulty to be overcome when a student teacher first begins to teach. This means that classroom management is an integral part of effective teaching. Hence, classroom management may also become a challenge for many teachers.

As a result, managing a class full of students is one of the biggest challenges faced by teachers. If teachers do not have an effective plan in place, there will not be much opportunity for students to engage in meaningful learning experiences. Thus, teachers will find themselves refereeing instead of teaching.

Table of contents

Dedication
Declaration
Acknowledgement
Abstract
General introduction
Table of contents
List of tables
List of figures
I. Chapter one: Introduction	1
I.1. Statement of the problem	1
I.2. Aims	1
I.3. Research question	1
I.4. Significance of the study	2
I.5. Research hypotheses	2
I.6. Research limitations	3
I.7. Research methodology	3
I.8. Research organization	4
I.9. The review of literature	5
I.9.1. Classroom management	5
I.9.2. Large classes	6
II. Chapter two: English classroom environment	9
Introduction	9
II.1. Classroom physical arrangement	9
II.1. The influence of classroom physical arrangement on students' learning	9

---

II.2. Strategies for effective room arrangement	10
II.2.1 Minimizing Distractions	11
II.2.2. Maximizing Access	12
II.2.3. Matching Arrangement with Lesson Purpose	13
II.2.4. Movement with Ease	14
II.3.Types of seating arrangement	15
II.3.1.Arrangement for independent work\ tests\beginning of the year\Lecture	17
II.3.2.Arrangement for group work	17
II.3.3 .Arrangement for demonstration\discussion	18
II.2. Classroom psycho-social environment	20
II.2.1.Definition of classroom psycho-social environment	20
II.2.2. Strategies for building relationships with students	22
II.2.2.1. Model the behavior you want	22
II.2.2.2. Establishing friendly but appropriate relationships	24
II.2.2.2.1.Getting to know your students	24
II.2.2.2.1.1.1.Learning students' names	24
II.2.2.2.1.1.2.Make a seating chart	25
II.2.2.2.1.1.3. Name cards	25
II.2.2.2.1.1.4. Name learning game	26
II.2.2.2.1.1.5. Use introductions	27
II.2.2.2.1.1.6.Actively use students' names	27
II.2.2.2.1.2. Finding out more about students	28
II.2.2.3. Provide opportunities for students to know you as a person: Be personal	29
II.2.2.3.1. Be open to students' concerns and feelings	30
II.3.Classroom rules and procedures	33

II.3.1.Establishing classroom rules and procedures	33
II.3.1.1.Identifying specific rules and procedures	35
II.3.1.1.1.General expectation for behavior	36
II.3.1.1.2.Beginning and ending the class day or the period	36
II.3.1.1.3.Transitions and interruptions	36
II.3.1.1.4.Materials and equipment	36
II.3.1.1.5. Group work	37
II.3.1.1.6. Seatwork and teacher- led activities	37
II.3.1.2. Involve students in the design of rules and procedure	37
II.3.2. Disruptive behavior prevention	39
II.3.2.1. Involving students in the process of establishing classroom rules and Procedures	40
II.3.2.2. Effective instruction	40
II.3.2.2.1. With-it-ness	41
II.3.2.2.2.Overlapping	41
II.3.2.2.3.Stimulating seatwork	41
II.3.2.2.4. Group alerting	41
II.3.2.2.3. Smoothness and momentum in lessons	41
Conclusion	42
III. Chapter three: Instruction and assessment strategies	43
III.1. Teaching Preparation: Lesson planning	43
III.1.1. Definition of lesson planning	43
III.1.2.Pre-planning	44
III.1.2.Components of Effective Lessons	44

---

III.1.2.1.Topic	45
III.1.2.2.Lesson objective	45
III.1.2.3.Enabling skills	45
III.1.2.4.Sequence of stages	46
III.1.2.5.Materials, equipment, and technology	46
III.2. Teaching Procedures and Strategies: Lesson Presentation	46
III.2.1.Whole class strategies	48
III.2.1.1.Lecture	48
III.2.1.2. Discussion	51
III.2.1.3. Debate	51
III.2.2.Small-goup strategies	52
II.2.2.1. Types of cooperative group work	53
II.2.2.1.1.Structured Academic Controversy	53
II.2.2.1.2.Base Groups	54
II.2.2.1.3Jigsaw Strategies	54
III.3. Assessment strategies	55
III.3.1. Definition of assessment	55
III.3.2. Large class assessment	56
III.3.2.1. Assessment challenges created by large classes	56
III.3.2.1.1. Surface learning approach	56
III.3.2.1.2.Feedback is often inadequate	56
III.3.2.1.3.Inconsistency in marking	57
III.3.2.1.4.Plagiarism	57

---

III.3.2.1.5.Lack of interaction and engagement	57
III.3.2.2. Strategies for assessing large classes	58
III.3.2.2.1. Front-ending	58
III.3.2.2.1.1.Full briefing instructions/checklists	58
III.3.2.2.1.2.Clarification of the assessment criteria	59
III.3.2.2.2. Do it in class	59
III.3.2.2.2.1.Giving general rather than individual feedback	59
III.3.2.2.2.2.Setting assignments which can be marked in class	60
III.3.2.2.2. 3.Setting assignments which can be undertaken in class	60
III.3.2.2.3. Self- and peer-assessment	60
III.3.2.2.3. 1.Self-assessment	60
III.3.2.2.3. 2.Peer assessment	63
III.3.2.2.4. Assess groups	64
III.3.2.2.4.1. Group mark	65
III.3.2.2.4.2. Individual contracts	66
III.3.2.2.4.3. Divided group mark	66
III.3.2.2.4.4. Peer-assessment of contributions	66
III.3.2.2.4.5. Viva	67
III.3.2.2.4.6. Project exam	67
III.3.2.2.5. Mechanize the assessment	67
III.3.2.2.5.1. Statement banks	67
III.3.2.2.5.2. Feedback sheets	68
III.3.2.2.5.3. Objective tests	69
III.3.2.2.6. Strategic reduction	70

---

III.3.2.2.6.1. Reducing assessment	70
III.3.2.2.6.2.Reducing time spent on feedback	70
Conclusion	72
IV.Chapter three: Field work	73
Introduction	74
IV.1. Teachers' questionnaire	74
IV.1. 1.Aims of the questionnaire	74
IV.1. 2.Administration of the questionnaire	74
IV.1. 3.Description of the questionnaire	74
IV.1.4. Analysis of the questionnaire	77
IV.1.5. Discussion	110
IV. 2. Students' questionnaire	113
IV. 2.1. Aims of the questionnaire	113
IV. 2.2. Administration of the questionnaire	113
IV.2.3. Description of the questionnaire	113
IV.2. 4.Analysis of the questionnaire	114
IV.2.5. Discussion	129
Conclusion	130
General conclusion	132
Recommendations	134
Works cited	135
Appendices	139
Appendix I: Teacher's questionnaire	139
Appendix II: Students' questionnaire	147

List of Tables

Table 1: Teachers' sex	77
Table 2: Teachers' age	78
Table 3: Teachers' level of formal education	78
Table 4: Teachers' experience	79
Table 5: Degree of importance teachers assign to good instruction to achieve an effective classroom management in large classes	80
Table 6: Degree of importance teachers assign to establishing strict and consistent classroom rules to achieve an effective classroom management in large classes	81
Table 7: Degree of importance teachers assign controlling misbehaviors in large Classes	82
Table 8: Teachers' attitudes about the of classroom management challenges in large classes	83
Table. 9: Teachers' attitudes about teaching difficulties in large classes	84
Table 10: Teachers' attitudes about the difficulty of monitoring students' actual progress in large classes	85
Table 11: Teachers' attitudes about saving time and energy when teaching large classes	86
Table 12: Teachers' attitude about University's non -need for many teachers	87
Table13: Teachers' attitudes about thorough discussions and different ideas in large Classes	88
Table 14: Degree of importance teachers place to appropriate seating arrangement in large classes	89

---

Table 15: Degree of importance teachers place to Positive psycho-social environment in large classes	90
Table16: Degree of importance teachers place to establishing classroom rules and procedures	91
Table 17: Teachers' attitudes about the influence of classroom seating arrangement on students' learning	92
Table 18: Teachers' attitudes about their responsibility of selecting suitable seating arrangement for their students	93
Table 19: Teachers' attitudes about of applying different seating arrangements within large classes.	94
Table 20: Degree of emphasis teachers place on involving students in establishing classroom rules and procedures	95
Table 21: Teachers' attitudes about involving students in establishing classroom rules and procedures as a strategy to enhance their sense of belonging, their responsibility and reduce disruptive behaviors	96
Table 22: Teachers' attitudes about the requirement of fairness and consistency to attain behavior management	97
Table 23: Teachers' attitudes about maintaining silence in order to have students learn effectively	98
Table 24: Teachers' attitudes about the influence of effective teaching in reducing disruptive behavior in large classrooms	98
Table 25: Degree of emphasis teachers put on lesson content when planning a lesson for their large classes	99
Table 26: Degree of emphasis teachers put on lesson presentation when planning a lesson for their large classes	100
Table 27: Degree of emphasis teachers put on classroom seating arrangement when planning a lesson for their large classes	101
Table 28: Degree of emphasis teachers put on students' learning styles and strategies when planning a lesson for their large classes	102

---

Table 29: Teachers' professional judgments about the most effective method for teaching large classes	103
Table 30: How often teachers ask their students whether or not their teaching style (techniques) fits the latter needs	104
Table 31: Teachers' attitudes about the effectiveness of advanced (talented) students' assistance as a strategy in large class	105
Table 32: Teachers' attitudes about the effectiveness of Self- , peer and group assessment as strategies to reduce the teacher's effort when assessing students' achievements	106
Table 33: Teachers' attitudes about the effectiveness of peer and group assessment as strategies for providing learning experiences for students	107
Table 34: Teacher's degree of need for professional development in Classroom management	108
Table 35: Teacher's degree of need for professional development in innovative teaching and assessing practices for large classes	109
Table 36: Teacher's degree of need for professional development in skills of using technology to support teaching and learning	110
Table 37: Students' sex	114
Table 38: Students' age	115
Table 39: Students' attitudes about the physical environment of EFL classrooms at our University	116
Table 40: Students' attitudes about the psycho-social environment of their large classrooms	117
Table 41: Students' attitudes about admitting their responsible for their learning and their behaviour within classroom if they are involved in making classroom rules	118
Table 42: The existence of learning difficulties in large EFL classes	119
Table 43: How frequent teachers involve students in establishing classroom rules and activities.	121

Table 44: How frequent teachers explain to students how they should behave within the classroom (setting expectations)	122
Table 45: How frequent teachers make students aware of the learning goals in each session	123
Table 46: How frequent teachers use technology aids to support learning	124
Table 47: How often teachers use lecture strategy in teaching large EFL classes	125
Table 48: How often teachers use group work strategy in teaching large EFL classes	126
Table 49: How often teachers use a combination of lecture and group work strategies in teaching large EFL classes	127
Table 50: Students' attitudes about that peer and group assessment	128

List of Figures

Figure.1: Strategies of effective room arrangement	11
Figure.2: Arrangement for independent work\ tests\beginning of the year\Lecture	17
Figure. 3: Arrangement for group work	17
Figure.4: Arrangement for demonstration\discussion	18
Figure.5: Doubled U-shape	18
Figure.6: Divided class	19
Figure.7 : Interaction between Dominance and Cooperation	21
Figure.8: Seating Chart	25
Figure.9: Name Card	26
Figure.10: Methods of teaching by effective teachers	40
Figure.11: Self-assessment Checklist	62
Figure.12: Comment List	68
Figure.13:Feedback sheet	69
Graph 1: Students' sex	77
Graph 2: Students' age	78
Graph 3: Students' attitudes about the physical environment of EFL classrooms at our University	79
Graph 4: Students' attitudes about the psycho-social environment of their large classrooms	79
Graph 5: Students' attitudes about admitting their responsible for their learning and their behaviour within classroom if they are involved in making classroom rules	81
Graph 6: The existence of learning difficulties in large EFL class	82
Graph 7: How frequent teachers involve students in establishing classroom rules and activities	83
Graph 8: How frequent teachers explain to students how they should behave within the classroom (setting expectations)	84

---

Graph 9: How frequent teachers explain to students how they should behave within the classroom (setting expectations)	84
Graph 10: How frequent teachers explain to students how they should behave within the classroom (setting expectations).	85
Graph 11: How often teachers use lecture strategy in teaching large EFL classes	86
Graph 12: How often teachers use group work strategy in teaching large EFL classes.	87
Graph 13: How often teachers use a combination of lecture and group work strategies in teaching large EFL classes	88
Graph 14: Students' attitudes about that peer and group assessment	89
Graph 15: Students' sex	90
Graph 16: Students' age	91
Graph 17: Students' attitudes about the physical environment of EFL classrooms at our University	92
Graph 18: Students' attitudes about the psycho-social environment of their large classrooms	93
Graph 19: Students' attitudes about admitting their responsible for their learning and their behaviour within classroom if they are involved in making classroom rules	94
Graph 20: Degree of emphasis teachers place on involving students in establishing classroom rules and procedures	95
Graph 21: Teachers' attitudes about involving students in establishing classroom rules and procedures as a strategy to enhance their sense of belonging, their responsibility and reduce disruptive behaviors	96
Graph 22: Teachers' attitudes about the requirement of fairness and consistency to attain behavior management	97
Graph 23: Teachers' attitudes about maintaining silence in order to have students learn effectively	98

---

Graph 24: Teachers' attitudes about the influence of effective teaching in reducing disruptive behavior in large classrooms	99
Graph 25: Degree of emphasis teachers put on lesson content when planning a lesson for their large classes	100
Graph 26: Degree of emphasis teachers put on lesson presentation when planning a lesson for their large classes	100
Graph 27: Degree of emphasis teachers put on classroom seating arrangement when planning a lesson for their large classes	101
Graph 28: Degree of emphasis teachers put on students' learning styles and strategies when planning a lesson for their large classes	102
Graph 29: Teachers' professional judgments about the most effective method for teaching large classes	103
Graph 30: How often teachers ask their students whether or not their teaching style (techniques) fits the latter needs	104
Graph 31: Teachers' attitudes about the effectiveness of advanced (talented) students' assistance as a strategy in large classes	105
Graph 32: Teachers' attitudes about the effectiveness of Self- , peer and group assessment as strategies to reduce the teacher's effort when assessing students' achievements	106
Graph 33: Teachers' attitudes about the effectiveness of peer and group assessment as strategies for providing learning experiences for students	107
Graph 34: Teacher's degree of need for professional development in Classroom management	108
Graph 35: Teacher's degree of need for professional development in innovative teaching and assessing practices for large classes	109
Graph 36: Teacher's degree of need for professional development in skills of using technology to support teaching and learning	110
Graph 37: Students' sex	114

---

Graph 38: Students' age	115
Graph 39: Students' attitudes about the physical environment of EFL classrooms at our University	116
Graph 40: Students' attitudes about the psycho-social environment of their large classrooms	118
Graph 41: Students' attitudes about admitting their responsible for their learning and their behaviour within classroom if they are involved in making classroom rules	119
Graph 42: The existence of learning difficulties in large EFL classes	120
Graph 43: How frequent teachers involve students in establishing classroom rules and activities.	121
Graph 44: How frequent teachers explain to students how they should behave within the classroom (setting expectations)	122
Graph 45: How frequent teachers make students aware of the learning goals in each session	123
Graph 46: How frequent teachers use technology aids to support learning	124
Graph 47: How often teachers use lecture strategy in teaching large EFL classes	125
Graph 48: How often teachers use group work strategy in teaching large EFL class	126
Graph 49: How often teachers use a combination of lecture and group work strategies in teaching large EFL classes	127
Graph 50: Students' attitudes about that peer and group assessment	128